The Guide to Judiciary Policy, Volume 8E, Chapter 3, has endorsed criteria for assessing whether an offender who satisfies the minimal statutory factors should be recommended for early termination: At 18 months, there is a presumption in favor of recommending early termination for persons who meet the following criteria: (1) The person does not meet the criteria of a career drug offender or career criminal (as described in 28 U.S.C. § 944(h)) or has not committed a sex offense or engaged in terrorism; (2) The person presents no identified risk of harm to the public or victims; (3) The person is free from any court-reported violations over a 12-month period; (4) The person demonstrates the ability to lawfully self-manage beyond the period of supervision; (5) The person is in substantial compliance with all conditions of supervision; and (6) The person engages in appropriate prosocial activities and receives sufficient prosocial support to remain lawful well beyond the period of supervision.

Oliva has maintained contact with the probation office through his supervision. While on probation Mr. Oliva has not incurred any arrests and/or documented negative contact with law enforcement. Oliva has a stable residence and is currently in compliance with all his conditions of probation. Mr. Oliva is scheduled to terminate from probation on April 8, 2022, it is respectfully requested that Mr. Oliva receive an early termination from probation. The U.S. Attorney's office has been given more than two weeks' notice of this request and they have not objected. The probation form 35 is attached for Your Honor's review.
